

FIRE EVACUATION PLAN

- Any person discovering a fire in their lodge should leave the property immediately, ensuring all persons present do so. Do not stop to collect valuables or personal effects.
- Call the fire brigade immediately on 999 - follow the fire brigades instructions at all times
- Do not try to fight the fire yourself.
- Alert a member of the team.
- If it is safe to do so, alert any immediate neighbours and in particular those who may require evacuation assistance. If you foresee any person requiring evacuation assistance (e.g. deaf/hard of hearing, mobility needs) please notify reception so we can prepare a PEEP (Personalised Emergency Evacuation Plan).

- Move to the nearest or safest assembly point while the fire brigade attend the incident.
- Do not under any circumstances, try to re-enter the lodge at any time until the fire brigade tell you that it is safe to do so.

OTHER INCIDENTS

In the event of other incidents (e.g. injury requiring first aid or a security concern) contact reception who will respond accordingly. Should you smell gas, leave the lodge immediately and report the incident to reception from a place of safety.
